March 1, 2009

Dear Parents and Guardians,

End of Term Exams begin on Monday, March 8 and will end Friday, March 13.

If your student is enrolled in grades 9, 10, and 12, he/she will be allowed to leave the building by 12:30, the conclusion of testing time, on Tuesday, March 9, Wednesday, March 10 and Thursday, March 11. On Friday, March 12, all students grades K-12, will be dismissed at 12:30 due to the half day of school. On these days, lunch WILL NOT be provided for early release students.

If you choose to have your child remain at school after the completion of End of Term Exams, he/she will remain in a quiet study hall for the entire afternoon. Therefore, we strongly encourage you to sign the permission slip below and allow your child to go home for the day.

The following permission slip must be returned to your student's homeroom teacher no later than Friday, March 5 or he /she will be required to stay in the building for an afternoon of silent study. If your student has any periodic exam make-ups from Term 2 he or she will not be eligible for the early dismissal until these make-ups are completed.

Any student who has multiple academic or behavior infractions will not be allowed to leave early. The student management team will make the final decision on these issues. If you have any questions about early dismissal, please contact Beth Kotlark, High School Academic Quality Controller.

I understand that my 9th, 10th or 12th grade student will be leaving school at 12:30 on Tuesday, March 9- Thursday, March 11. I understand that bus transportation for early release students will not be provided at that time.

On Friday, March 12, he/she will be dismissed at 12:30 due to ALL students having a half day of school.
